

High U. S. Postoffice Official Ousted In Stamp Issue Racket

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A high postoffice official has quit—by request—in connection with dealings in special stamp issues which reportedly cost "investors" hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Postmaster General Donaldson confirmed last night that Harold J. Ambrose, his special assistant in charge of public relations, had been asked to resign and had done so Jan. 11.

Donaldson would not discuss the case in detail, saying that it was "still under investigation by the postoffice inspectors."

He did say he had requested the resignation after getting reports that Ambrose had offered to act as agent for buyers of large blocks of commemorative stamp issues.

Ambrose, married to a niece of Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), was said to have entered the post-office department's information section in 1933, when the senator was first assistant postmaster. The special assistant's job Ambrose held until recently pays $10,000 a year.

Mrs. O'Mahoney told newsmen last night that Ambrose had gone to the senator and reported being "in a jam." O'Mahoney's advice, she said, was to tell the full story to Donaldson, then quit.

There had been reports that a postal official had promised a 50 per cent profit in 90 days to investors in eastern cities who went in on a scheme to buy and sell special stamp issues.

Officials said close to $400,000 was invested on the basis of that promise. While early investors reportedly got their promised profits, others were left with losses of over $200,000 when the scheme blew up.

Mrs. O'Mahoney said Ambrose "didn't make a dime," to her knowledge, out of the dealings which resulted in his ouster from the postoffice department.

Officials said they understood Ambrose used postoffice stationery, but they said no government funds were involved in any way. No charges have been filed, they added.

Reporters trying to reach Ambrose found that his telephone number is not listed, and there were reports it had been removed from the phone book after his wife was besieged by calls from investors seeking their money.

Mighty Mo Back Bucking Waves

Battleship Officers In Naval Court

NORFOLK, Va. — (AP) — The mighty battleship Missouri—freed from the mud, her damaged bottom shipshape—today was bucking the waves of the open sea.

She will race through the Atlantic for two days on a test run, and return to the Norfolk naval base Thursday. There she will reload for her interrupted training cruise to Guantanamo, Cuba.

Meanwhile three of her top officers serving aboard her when she ran aground Jan. 17 will stay behind to explain to a naval court of inquiry. They have been temporarily replaced by officers who had the same positions on the ship last summer.

Defendants are the ships skipper, Capt. William D. Brown, her navigator, Lt. Comdr. Frank G. Morris, and her operations officer, Comdr. John R. Millett. Millett was named a defendant yesterday after he told the court he had confused shallow water buoys for deep water buoys just before the ship plowed aground in Chesapeake bay.

Capt. H. P. Smith, who preceded Brown as skipper, was back in command of the Missouri today. Comdr. Harold D. Fuller is back as operations officer, replacing Millett, and Lt. Comdr. Harry W. Hall is back as navigator in Morris' place. Comdr. George E. Peckham continues as executive officer.

Chiefs Of Staff Stop At Hawaii On Inspection Trip

By LEIF ERICKSON

PEARL HARBOR — (AP) — The touring U. S. joint chiefs of staff today began a first-hand survey of the military picture in Hawaii. They are on their way home from Japan, Okinawa, Guam and Kwajalein.

The four top commanders flew in yesterday for three days of conferences with Hawaii's military chiefs and inspection of installations.

Gen. Omar Bradley was asked at a news conference if it would be wise to establish a southeast Asia holding line against Communism as was done with military aid in Greece and Turkey.

A decision on any such policy is up to President Truman, said the chairman of the joint chiefs. The joint chiefs' job is to advise on the "military implications."

Asked what are these implications in Southeast Asia, Bradley replied with a quiet smile: "I won't tell you."

He added that "political implications may at times override military implications."

Old Schoolmates Conduct Funeral Of Bishop Murphy

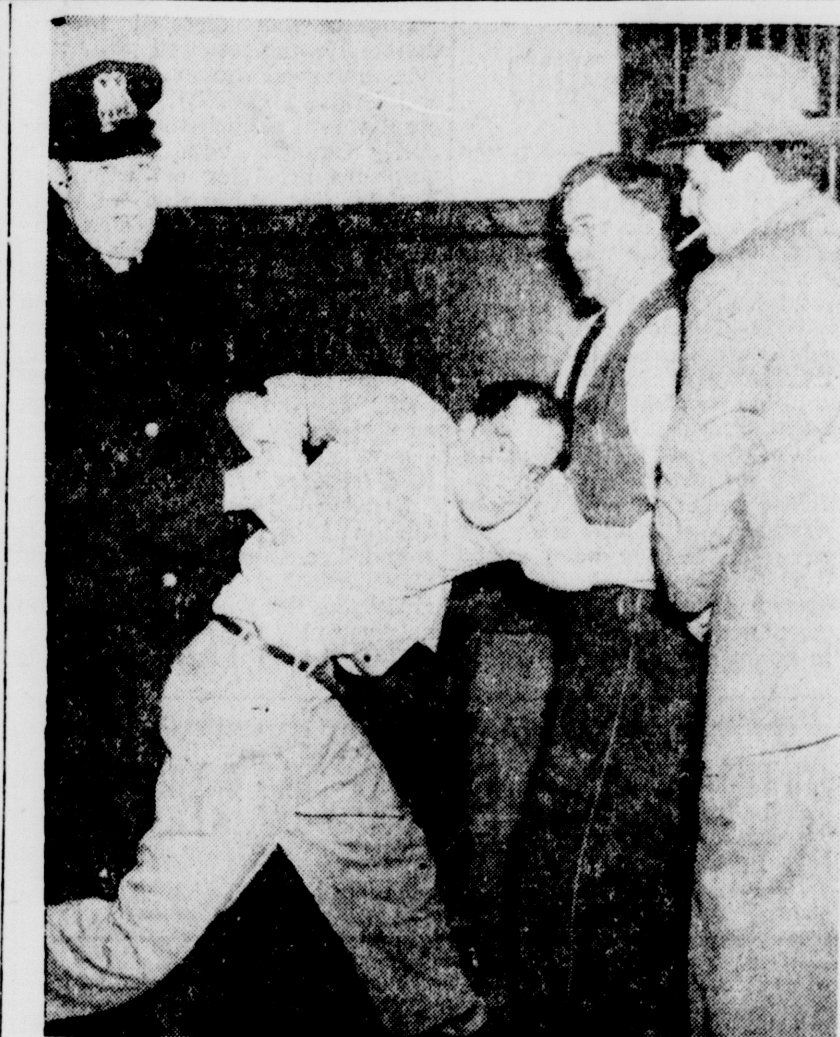

SAGINAW, Mich. — (AP) — Two old schoolmates who have risen to high posts in the Roman Catholic church will conduct funeral services Saturday for their long-time friend, Bishop William Francis Murphy.

The head of the Saginaw diocese died yesterday of a heart ailment at the age of 64. He had been ill a year.

Edward Cardinal Mooney of Detroit and Samuel Cardinal Stritch of Chicago, both fellow students with Bishop Murphy at the North American College in Rome more than 30 years ago, will take part in the final rites beginning at 10:30 a. m. in St. Mary's Cathedral.

British Elections To Have Bearing On Future Of ECA Aid

By DON WHITEHEAD

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senators said today the British general elections this month will have a strong influence on how much money Congress will approve for Europe's recovery.

They said that if Winston Churchill and his Conservatives return to power Congress will be less likely to make a heavy cut in Marshall Plan spending, but if the Labor government wins out the cut may be drastic.

Senator Smith (R-NJ), a supporter of the European recovery program, told a reporter there is no doubt a Conservative victory would "make it much easier" to get Congressional approval of the third-year program.

The reason, he said, is that Congress would have more confidence in the British government's economic and social welfare policies under Churchill.

Smith said many members of Congress do not agree with the Labor government's nationalization of industries and its economic and social policies.

"If the Labor government returns to power its same policies," he said, "it will be like pulling teeth to get money for Europe."

Others agreed. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.), a member of the Senate appropriations committee, said a Conservative victory would ease the pressures against the ECA program.

German Nazis Busy In Secret

Group Promotes New Kind Of Hitlerism

By BRACK CURRY

FRANKFURT, Germany—(AP)—American agents disclosed today they are investigating a secret Nazi underground organization agitating for a new brand of Hitlerism in Germany.

The size of the underground group is unknown but one Allied official called it "certainly dangerous."

"It must be watched," he added. "On the other hand, it's importance should not be over-emphasized."

Calling itself the "Katakomben-Scheinwerfer" (Catacomb Reflector), the underground movement has its headquarters somewhere in Munich, birthplace of Hitler's Nazi organization, American officials said. It publishes a secretly-distributed newspaper glorifying Nazism and brands all Germans who opposed Hitler as traitors.

American agents said they are making an investigation to uncover its strength and leadership, how it is financed and how it distributes its illegal literature.

Officials said the group apparently is in touch with underground Fascist groups in Austria, Italy and possibly in Argentina.

BUS DRIVER HELD

DETROIT—(AP)—City bus driver Edward J. Ryckhinski was brought to court on a charge of negligent homicide Tuesday in the traffic death of William R. Angell, 82, retired industrialist. Ryckhinski stood mute and was released in $500 bond. His bus struck Angell on a downtown street Jan. 24.

Chomping Fest To Cost $100 For Democrats

Washington Affair Caters To 5,200

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON—(AP)—At 7:45 p. m., on the night of Feb. 16, a green light will flash in the National Guard Armory here, and 550 waiters will dash out.

Thereupon, 5,200 diners, faithful Democrats who are affluent enough to shell out $100 a plate, will start chomping away at the Jefferson-Jackson Day dinner.

It sounds easy, written that way.

But President Truman, who only has to make the main speech, has a snap compared with the chore of getting the dinner arranged.

At least, that's the view of Mayflower and Statler hotel officials, who are splitting the catering job for the big feed.

The hotel people have a heap of statistics and assorted data to prove their point.

To begin with, there's the geography problem.

Cooked 4 Miles Away

The armory is a monster of a building in Southeast Washington. The food will have to be cooked in the hotels, four miles away.

Then there's this additional worry: The night before the banquet Georgetown and George Washington universities will be using the Armory for basketball.

So, lurking along the sidelines, as intent on the game as any cheerleader, will be a group of cleaning people, table-setters, uppers and other functionaries. The moment the final whistle blows, they'll spring into action.

By daylight the last traces of basketball will be scrubbed from the big hall, and 520 tables will have been set up.

At 10 a. m., the table linen and the silverware will begin to go on the tables. By 4 p. m., the food will begin to arrive, to be kept warm on 12 special charcoal burners.

A special fleet of buses will bring the waiters, the 75 captains, the 50 stewards.

Auto Show Next

Then at the great moment, Jack Wessler, the Maitre D'Hotel for Statler, or Max Steiner, the ditto for Mayflower, will push the button that will light the special light, and the dinner will be on.

The job of feeding 5,200 people calls for considerable equipment, of course. Such as: 16,000 salad plates, 11,000 teaspoons, 1,100 ice buckets, 25,000 ice cubes, 1,100 ash trays, 5,200 wine glasses etc.

And once the dinner is over, the hotel people aren't through, either.

They have to hustle right in and clean the joint up. An automobile show moves into the Armory the next day.

Navy Neptune Plane Near Distance Goal In 5,000-Mile Test

SAN JOSE, Calif. — (AP) — A carrier-launched Navy Neptune plane seeking a new distance record was reported nearing its 5,000 mile goal early today.

The plane, carrying six men and commanded by Cmdr. Thomas Robinson, reported at 4:10 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time) that it was 2,700 miles north of Acapulco, on the West coast of Mexico, and 1,660 miles from its destination at Moffett Air Base near here.

A "target landing time" of 3:13 p. m. (EST) has been fixed for the flight. This gave the plane just 27 hours to cover the distance of slightly more than 5,000 miles.

The plane was launched yesterday at 12:13 p. m. (EST) from a carrier off Jacksonville, Fla. The record for carrier-launched planes was established two months ago by Cmdr. Frederick Ahnsworth, in a 4,890 mile flight taking 25 hours, 20 minutes.

JACKSON, Miss. — (AP) — Two members of the Mississippi legislature say tipping is a nuisance. Rep. Lowell Grisham and B. T. Weeks asked the House to approve a $100 fine on firms allowing tipping. They suggest $50 fines on those accepting — or handing out — tips.

BRUSSELS, Belgium — (AP) — The Belgian House of Representatives voted today to ask the people of this country whether they want King Leopold to return to his throne. The referendum will be late in March.

Lewis And Coal Operators Agree To Dicker Again

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman's coal fact-finding board today won agreement from John L. Lewis and the coal operators to try again for agreement on a coal contract through negotiations.

The new bargaining sessions were set for 2 p. m. (EST) with the board members sitting in as observers.

The board members were optimistic that the whole coal dispute might be settled before nightfall.

David Cole, chairman of the board, had remarked that he believed an agreement might be reached "in two or three hours."

Lewis said it was "possible."

The operators indicated they were less optimistic.

The board's proposal came after a somewhat stormy hour and a half of hearings during which Lewis once called coal man George H. Love "a liar by the clock."

Cole asked whether Lewis ever had presented any specific contract demands to the mine operators.

Love said he was informed by Cyrus S. Ching (federal mediation chief) that "it was the union bargaining technique to say that 'You men own the mines, I have the men in the palm of my hands—what do you bid?'"

Girl Who Shot Father Freed

Jury Gives Acquittal In Mercy Slaying

By ARTHUR EVERETT

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. — (AP) — Carol Ann Paignt, acquitted in the mercy slaying of her cancer-ridden father, planned today to return to college as soon as she rests up from the ordeal of her trial.

The 21-year-old blonde, who pleaded temporary insanity, was freed last night by a jury of 12 parents.

She spent her first night at home in nearby Stamford since she shot her father, Police Sergeant Carl Paignt, last Sept. 23, as he slept in Stamford hospital. "Oh God," the attractive six-foot girl sobbed as she broke down at the verdict. She was near complete collapse.

The jury deliberated four hours and 51 minutes before Foreman Judith Hemhard, 52, announced the verdict. The trial lasted two weeks.

Carol was charged with second degree murder in Connecticut's first mercy slaying trial. She would have gone to prison for life if convicted.

The jury also could have convicted her of manslaughter — with a maximum penalty up to 15 years in prison.

Missionaries From America Disappear In Czech Province

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — (AP) — The U. S. embassy announced today it had received reports that two American Mormon missionaries "disappeared" in the province of Moravia Jan. 28 and have not been heard from since.

The embassy said it had asked the Czechoslovakian foreign ministry to supply information "concerning the welfare and whereabouts" of missionaries Stanley E. Abbott and C. Aldon Johnson.

While the embassy announcement made no mention of arrests, reliable western diplomatic sources said the two men had been arrested by Czech police near Olomouc on unspecified charges.

Wallace Toronto, head of the Mormon church in Czechoslovakia, said Abbott, 23, came from Lehigh, Utah, and that Johnson, 22, was a resident of Idaho Falls, Idaho.

Blackney Approved For Congress Seat

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House administration committee today upheld the right of Rep. Blackney (R-Mich.) to retain his seat in Congress. The vote was 12 to 2.

Blackney's election in November, 1948, was contested by George D. Stevens, 35-year-old Flint Democrat, who lost to the veteran congressman by 784 votes.

Over 540,000 Communists In America Now

Lawmakers Aroused By Atomic Leaks

By OLIVER W. DEWOLF

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Russian undercover activity in the United States was reported today at an all-time high.

The report came from a lawmaker familiar with evidence on the Klaus Fuchs case which FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover has been placing before congress.

Hoover, seeking enough funds for at least 300 more G-men, was said to have told a senate appropriations subcommittee there are 540,000 Communists and fellow travelers in this country, 54,000 of them card-carrying party members.

He also is understood to have said that Fuchs, the British scientist now under arrest in London for passing atomic secrets to Russia, had many opportunities to carry out his operations here.

Fuchs Extradition Asked

Fuchs comes up for trial Friday, charged with two violations of the official secrets act. Officials here say these involve two specific leaks of atomic information to Russia—once here in 1945 and the other in Britain in 1947.

The German-born, 38-year-old scientist came to this country in 1943 as a member of a top British atomic team. He remained in the United States until 1946.

Senator Ferguson (D-Mich.) disclosed last night that he is asking Attorney General McGrath to try to extradite Fuchs from Britain for trial before an American court.

He said such a procedure would provide the "best deterrent" to atomic espionage in the United States.

Such a move already has been explored by the senate-house atomic energy committee. The committee's lawyers have expressed doubt that applicable treaties between the two nations would permit extradition.

Fair Dealers Blamed

Hoover's appearance on Capitol Hill yesterday was his third in five days.

Chairman McCarran (D-Nev.) of the appropriations group declined to confirm that Hoover had estimated the number of Communists in the United States, as reported by other lawmakers.

But he did tell reporters that an investigation conducted by a judiciary subcommittee which he also heads "confirms the figures."

McCarran is chairman of an immigration group studying a bill designed to bar subversive aliens

Coin Testing Started By 12 U. S. Citizens

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Twelve citizens named by President Truman today start the two-day job of testing the government's metal money for weight and accuracy of design.

Complying with a 158-year-old law suggested by the first secretary of the treasury, Alexander Hamilton, the members of the annual assay commission will examine coins produced by U. S. mints in Philadelphia, San Francisco and Denver.

Aiding the non-expert members of the group will be Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the mint; U. S. District Judge William Kirkpatrick; comptroller of the currency Preston Delano of Washington, and Joseph S. Buford of the U. S. Assay office, New York City.

The citizen appointees receive no pay but are given expenses and a bronze commemorative medal.

Suit Against Blesch Estate Dismissed

MENOMINEE, Mich.—One of the two circuit court actions in the $400,000 suit of Frank Blesch Lewis of Fayetteville, Ark., against the estate of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Blesch was stricken Tuesday morning when Judge Glenn W. Jackson allowed a motion by Attorney Richard Sawyer, counsel for Lewis, that an appeal from a probate decision be dismissed.

Still pending is the suit in chancery by Lewis demanding an accounting by the First National bank, as executor of the Blesch estates, of all papers of G. A. Blesch pertaining to his handling of the estate of Francis Blesch, who died in Green Bay in 1879. Francis Blesch was Lewis' grandfather and the father of G. A. Blesch.

Lewis' $400,000 claim is based on allegations that G. A. Blesch, as executor of the Francis Blesch estate, did not pay Lewis all that was due to him as heir. Neither Lewis nor Carlos B. Hill, his Fayetteville attorney, has appeared in this week's litigation. They are represented by Attorneys Sawyer and Wilfred J. Hupy. Barstow & Barstow represent the bank.

Crews Remove 13,530 Yards Of Snow Here

City crews have removed a total of 13,530 yards of snow from Ludington street since the beginning of winter, Joseph Holmes, street superintendent, reported today.

Except for 2,000 yards removed in December, all snow was removed after New Year's Day. In 1948-49, city crews hauled a total of 16,300 yards from Ludington street.

An average of 12 men work on snow removal following storms. Snow is loosened from corners with a bull dozer, is loaded on trucks by machine, and then is hauled to the park at the foot of Ludington street or to the water tank site.

This year, city crews gave children a chance for fun. They dumped several loads in the St. Patrick playground, in the 300 block of North 10th street and back of the Junior High school so Greenwood of Gardner here. He will be succeeded by John A. Benzling, assistant general manager of Lloyd's for the past 14 months.

Larsen, who recently observed his 72nd birthday anniversary, will continue as an H-W director and with Lloyd company in an advisory capacity. He has been Lloyd general manager since 1930.

Larsen joined the Lloyd Manufacturing company in 1903 in Minneapolis. He was one of the key men brought to Menominee in 1907 when the late Marshall B. Lloyd moved his business to this city. He assisted in development of the Lloyd Loom which revolutionized the baby carriage industry and sent the Menominee firm to the top in the nation in this business.

Lloyd's leading competitor at that time was Heywood-Wakefield and according to Greenwood, H-W decided the Lloyd business would have to be acquired if only as a matter of self-preservation for Heywood-Wakefield. The consolidation was effected in 1921 and three years later Larsen was appointed general superintendent of the Lloyd plant and elevated to the post of general manager in January 1930. In that year he was also elected to the H-W board of directors.

Atlantic Union Urged Again To Offset H-Bomb

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Former Supreme Court Justice Owen J. Roberts said today the projected hydrogen bomb makes it imperative for the Atlantic plan nations to join in a federal union before it's too late.

Testifying before a Senate foreign relations subcommittee, the retired jurist gave full support to a resolution which would urge President Truman to call a conference of the pact members as the first step toward such a union.

"Unless we begin now to make exploration possible," he said, "the hydrogen bomb may have wiped out time."

Roberts presented his prepared statement as president of the Atlantic union committee, an organization which has been waging a strong campaign for a union of the Atlantic democracies.

Roberts said the proposed union, set up within the framework of the United Nations, would strengthen the international organization.

Another plan directed toward that end was presented yesterday by Senators Ferguson (R-Mich.) and Graham (D-NC). Their proposal would abolish the U. N. Security Council veto power in questions involving settlement of disputes and admission of new members. It also would strengthen the U. N. in other ways.

But Roberts said "a federal union of Atlantic democracies, with a common foreign policy, a common currency, a common defense force, with free movement of people and goods, is the surest, cheapest, strongest way to stop war, stop Communism, create prosperity, extend freedom."

"The people are apt to tire of our cold war efforts," he argued, "unless we present an idea and a definite plan which arouses the imagination of the people of our own country as well as that of the free peoples all over the world."

The Escanaba ABA, meeting last night at Bark River, reelected two directors, Archie Dubord of Flat Rock and Dick Johnston of Ensign. Dubord, also secretary of the group, presented a report, as did Walt Peterson, inseminator-manager for the association.

The meetings were attended by J. L. Heirman, Delta agricultural agent and Dairy Specialist Lutz. Two Indiana Republicans said the Truman administration must bear a large share of the responsibility if there are as many Communists in the country as Hoover reportedly said.

"It just proves what many of us have been saying for a long time—that the Fair Deal party has been sympathetic to Communists and fellow travelers," said Senator Capehart.

Senator Jenner put it this way: "The figures don't surprise me in view of the way some people in the administration have been going all out for men like Alger Hiss. The Communists and their sympathizers are being aided and abetted by our own government."

Baby Congratulations Land English Father In Buenos Aires Jail

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina—(AP)—Apparently Argentine police didn't think the congratulatory telegram Englishman Frank Kirton got on the birth of his daughter was very funny.

Kirton doesn't either, now. He's been held incommunicado in an Argentine jail since Feb. 2, charged with "crimes against the security of the state."

Rumors have been flying since then that he was involved in a plot against President Juan D. Peron and Mrs. Peron.

Kirton's brother John says it's all a mistake. The police just don't understand the American sense of humor, he explained.

According to the brother, a cable came from the wife of an American diplomat in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, congratulating Kirton on the birth of a daughter weighing seven and one-half pounds (three and one-half kilos) Jan. 22.

It said: "congratulations safe arrival three and one-half kilos dynamite."

Brother John said Argentine police apparently took the dynamite reference at face value and jailed Kirton pending investigation.

George N. Craig, national commander of the American Legion which is sponsoring the "tide of toys" campaign, said the gifts are being sent with "the assurance of a child's toy and a child's word that the spirit of peace and fellowship, introduced by another Child 2,000 years ago still lives."

Phoenix, Ariz. Bank Robbed Of $120,000 By 2 Early Bandits

PHOENIX—(AP)—Two men, at least one of them armed, early today robbed the bank of Douglas in downtown Phoenix of $120,000 cash.

City police said the men caught the janitor outside the bank about 6 a. m., forced him to let them into the building and waited until Jim Wise, a bank employee, arrived about 7:40 a. m.

Wise was forced to open the safe. The robbers then locked the employees in a room and fled. Bank officials estimated the

Air Force Plane Lost In Yukon Search For Missing Transport

WHITEHORSE, Y. T. —(AP)—Search planes droned over the Arctic wastes northwest of here today looking for possible fires or flares from a missing air force C-47.

The C-47, carrying 12 Canadian and U. S. airmen, vanished yesterday while searching for a C-54 transport which disappeared Jan. 26 with 44 persons aboard.

Search officials said S. O. S. signals from the C-47 were picked up last night but efforts to obtain a "fix" on them were fruitless.

Hope was held here that the C-47 might have landed in the Aishihik area, about 100 miles northwest of here, where it was assigned to check a 900-square-mile area. Temperatures in the region dropped to 22 below but search officials said the plane was equipped with emergency Arctic survival equipment.

Bombing Stepped Up On Formosa
Chinese Nationalists on Formosa today stepped up their bombing attacks on the big cities of China.

The Communist capital Peiping and nine other cities were warned of impending mass raids.

Shanghai was struck from the air for the second day in a row. The Communist radio said Monday's raid on Shanghai killed 1,000 persons and disrupted power and water supplies.

The Communist news agency said famine is sweeping East China north of the Yangtze River. Sixteen million people are feeling the pinch and some 2,790,000 are facing starvation. Drought, floods and disruptions in the aftermath of civil war are blamed by the Communists for the famine.

The Communists charged the Portuguese colony of Macao on the South China coast with helping Nationalist warships escape Communist capture. The Reds warned such action "will not be tolerated." Macao is virtually surrounded by Chinese Communist forces and could be taken at will.

Lewis And Mine Owners Set To Dicker Again

Workers were being felt at points all over the nation.

More than 25,000 other workers were forced into idleness as coal-burning factories ran out of fuel.

Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois announced that the state's four teachers colleges, with an enrollment of 7,200, would close—one tonight, the other three Friday night—until Feb. 27 "or until such time as coal supplies are made available."

The soft coal miners walked out this week after Lewis rejected a fact finding peace plan which Mr. Truman had offered.

That forced the president to invoke the emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley act, even though he has fought for the act's repeal.

The Taft-Hartley board of inquiry Mr. Truman named cannot recommend a settlement. But the president must wait for its report before directing Attorney General McGrath to petition the court for an injunction.

That may touch off an unprecedented showdown between the miners and the government. Lewis has hinted that the diggers either will defy a court back-to-work order or will lift their tools very slowly if forced to work.

After 80 days they would be free to strike again. Mr. Truman could then ask for new legislation to cope with such a situation.

Antivivisectionists Are "On The Run"

DR. A. J. CARLSON, professor emeritus of physiology at the University of Chicago and president of the National Society for Medical Research told his colleagues at the annual meeting of the society Sunday that antivivisectionists are "on the run."

The organized groups that have opposed medical experiments on animals have had little success in their court battles in which they sought to secure injunctions preventing the use of animals in medical experiments.

Much of the progress in medical science has been achieved because research laboratories have been able to experiment on animals. The benefits to humanity—and even to the animal world—as a result of these experiments have been vast. No one condones cruelty to animals but the experiments conducted in the medical laboratories on animals are not inhumane. Many states and some cities have adopted regulations guaranteeing that no person's pet be sold by dealers for experimental use.

That the antivivisectionists have not succeeded in their fight to prevent the use of animals for medical research purposes has been an important factor in the great advancements made in recent years in the field of medical science. The public should be pleased to know that liberty in the medical laboratories has been preserved. The nation's scientists are making steady progress in the control of many diseases, including polio, because of the knowledge that they are acquiring through animal experimentation.

Will Michigan Phone Workers Quit Jobs?

THE nation-wide telephone strike, originally scheduled for this morning, has been postponed to February 24. Just what will happen in Michigan in the event the national strike order is issued is a question that is in doubt. In all probability, however, the phone workers will walk off their jobs in blind obedience to the CWA president, Joseph A. Beirne, despite the fact there is no telephone labor dispute in Michigan.

The Michigan law requires that a notice be given to the Michigan Labor Board of a labor dispute and the law further requires that a strike vote be held before a strike can be lawfully called. Neither of these provisions have been met. If the phone workers really feel they have a labor grievance, they have not notified the Michigan Bell company. The union has not requested a discussion of terms for a new agreement. The present contract is in full force and effect.

We suppose that if Beirne tells the phone employees to knock off work, they'll do so, regardless of legal rights or personal feelings and perhaps with a sight in remembrance of the seven weeks strike which cost them a few hundred dollars each the last time they jumped to the music of the labor bosses.

A telephone business is a public utility. It is generally regarded as an essential service for protection of life and property. All business suffers keenly when denied communication facilities. For those reasons, public utilities are regulated and controlled rigidly by governmental authority for the protection of the public interest. That protection must necessarily extend to abuses by labor as well as abuses by management.

Asia Threatened By Red Tide

THE fight for Indo-China has begun. This time we can't wait for the dust to settle, as we did in China. The whole of Southeast Asia is at stake.

In the mounting struggle between communism and its adversaries in the Far East, Russia has opened a new phase by recognizing the regime of Ho Chi Minh, Moscow-trained rebel, in the northern Indo-Chinese state of Viet Nam.

Britain is expected to counter soon by recognizing the rival Viet Namese government of Bao Dai, who was chosen by the French to lead it. Greetings to Bao Dai from Secretary of State Acheson suggest this country may follow suit before long.

Indo-China lies squarely athwart the southward course of the Asiatic Reds. Its Viet Namese border is now lined with Chinese Communist troops who have swept the last Nationalist soldiers from their path.

Native forces rebelled against the return of French authority to Viet Nam after World War II. The French set up a republic there but the rebels, led by Minh, still weren't satisfied. Guerrilla fighting between Minh's forces and the French has gone on almost continuously since 1946. France sent in nearly 100,000 of its best troops.

Last year the French put Bao Dai, former emperor of the state of Annam, in charge of a rival government. They hoped he would win a large part of the Viet Namese away from Minh, but the effort has largely failed.

Anti-French, the natives view Bao Dai strictly as a French puppet. Though it is doubtful they want communism, they have turned to Minh as the only alternative.

He has a large regular army supported by many partisans. He controls at least 80 per cent of the region, although the French have managed to hold the larger cities.

It is regrettable that the western powers must consider recognizing a leader like Bao Dai who controls so little of the territory he is supposed to govern. The move would violate all normal rules of diplomatic practice.

But this is no time for diplomatic niceties. Nor is it the moment to worry about possible flaws in Bao Dai's character. What is important is the report that Minh already is receiving aid from the Chinese Reds and may be expected to get more and more in the months ahead.

We have no choice but to back Bao Dai's regime and aid the French and other forces resisting the rebels. This is the place to make a stand, to check the southward flow of communism before it engulfs not only Indo-China but Siam, Malaya, Burma and Indonesia.

Traffic Growing Faster Than Highways

THE U. S. Bureau of Public Roads says that the nation's highways are not being rebuilt fast enough to keep up with traffic demands. And no one will deny that this is particularly true of Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Dollar value of projects completed during the year throughout the country was the greatest on record. But highway traffic during the year was 50 per cent greater than in 1939, and traffic congestion was greater than ever before.

More than 21,000 miles of new or reconstructed highway were opened to traffic during the fiscal year, at a cost of 762 million dollars. Of this total, federal contributions amounted to 401 millions. Just to complete the worst deficiencies in the entire system, to lengthen the visibility of dozens of roads, divide them properly, and widen the too narrow pavements, shoulders and bridges necessary for safe traveling, would cost 11,266 millions more.

At current rates of expenditure, federal funds are being authorized at the rate of 75 millions a year, or 150 millions with matching state commitments. But if the entire system is to be adequately improved in the next 20 years, an average annual expenditure of more than 500 millions will be required.

If we can keep out of war for 20 years, the reconstruction and proper extension of our highway system will not be too difficult. But if we have no other recourse than to fall into the abyss of international war a third time, there will be little or no money for roads. And, truth to tell, if war comes there may be little use for roads or anything else when it is over.

ACORN IN YOUR HAND

Go to a pasture hillside and find an acorn still clinging tightly to a stubby oak twig. That smooth, hard-cased fruit in its brown capsule is a link with ancient epochs. The great majority of deciduous trees shed their leaves when the growing period is ended for the season. The oak which migrated northward millions of years ago retains its ancient habits. Southern Oaks are true evergreens; they drop their leaves a few at a time as they develop new foliage to replace that which has matured. In autumn most deciduous trees of the temperate zone grow a plate of brittle cells between the twig and the end of the leaf stem. In the oaks this cell plate often fails to form. That is why the leathery, dry leaves of the oak hang on over winter and rustle like dry bones in tugging in tugging winds.

The acorn in your hand represents the great climax to date of plant development. Unlike the single-celled spore that spark-plugged eras of gigantic fern trees, club mosses and horsetails, the encased seed holds the miracle of a complete new organism within itself. Perhaps the pines, spruces, larches, and hemlocks with their naked seeds which do not depend on insects for pollination, are the intermediate step between spores and encased seeds. It may have been a billion years ago when the first algae climbed from primal seas to rocky shore. Hundreds of millions of years passed as cells learned to manufacture chlorophyll from sun and air, develop efficient ducts for carrying water and food, and build woody stems to enclose the ducts and form the strong trunks of trees.

The encased seed, the acorn in your hand, contain the miracle of life. It can live over winter. When the magic of Spring brings resurrection to Earth, a thread-like white root will start downward into the soil; a slender green spike will lift toward the sun. An acorn is just a faded brown nut; but he who has the seeing eye and sensitive heart knows that within that smooth shell is an integral part of Nature's plan.—By Haydn Pearson.

SPEECH PORTRAIT

Arthur Godfrey

Voice: Baritone of wide range. Although he speaks mostly in a sort of nasal deepness, the Godfrey voice is flexible, resonant, and sonorous, especially in singing. It is one of the most individual voices on the air.

Enunciation: Very good, when he wants it to be. Godfrey is utterly uninhibited; and he ranges from the uncouth to the near-classical.

Styl: For the most part, Arthur Godfrey is relaxed and conversational. He seems to throw away the book and say whatever occurs to him. I rather suspect, though, that this is part of the show. He is purposely corny, and occasionally, vulgar. This is what I had in mind about a year ago when I wrote, "Arthur Godfrey has risen to fame by virtue of the most uncouth speech on the air."

Newsman Irk Pres. Truman

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON—One effect of the hydrogen bomb is apparent already. It has widened the gap between the president and the country. The man in the White House is more isolated.

A symptom of this isolation in Mr. Truman's relations with the press and in particular over the issue of the H-bomb. On each side of the divide suspicion and even hostility are growing. This is, moreover, a symptom of an attitude common in a considerable section of the Truman administration.

Because it can have such serious consequences at this precarious moment in the world crisis, it seems to me important to try to understand how the president himself, feels about these matters. Here is an authoritative view of the president and the press as seen from the White House.

TRUMAN BECOMES SOUR
Over a period of months, and especially since the campaign in the fall of 1948, the president has come to feel about the press more or less as did Franklin Roosevelt in the latter phase of the New Deal. As with Roosevelt, there has been a growing doubt, in view of the way in which elections turn out, as to the influence of the press and the degree to which it represents public opinion.

In addition, there was the constant goad of reckless and irresponsible elements in press and radio. A determination that at times became something like an obsession was directed at preventing "leaks." Questions were put at White House press conferences that were felt to be deliberately insulting and beneath the dignity not of the individual but of the office. This was a marked change from the first months of the Truman administration when the president appeared to the press as a friendly, simple man struggling to adjust to tasks of frightening scope.

Against this background arose the issue of the hydrogen bomb. The fact is, of course, that the president had authorized the Atomic Energy commission to proceed with planning and experimentation essential to the manufacture of the H-bomb well in advance of the public discussion. He took that step as commander-in-chief in what he believed to be the best interests of the security of the nation.

JOHNSON ALERTED PRESS
Whatever else Senator Edwin Johnson achieved in his radio interview on November 1, 1949, he did alert the press to the development of a new "superbomb." Three years before, John J. McCloy, former assistant secretary of war and now high commissioner for American occupation forces in Germany, had said more about the development and the potentialities of the bomb than Johnson.

But the disclosure by Johnson, a member of the senate-house committee on atomic energy, set off the H-bomb discussion. It soon took on both sensational and controversial overtones. The president and his immediate advisers were resentful and fearful.

They were convinced the discussion was endangering America's security. The feeling was strong that development of a new weapon still in the experimental stage was not a subject for public debate. The debate would alert the Soviet Union to our intentions and spur them on to achieve the H-bomb.

In the state department among some policy makers the belief was growing that a cold war could not be waged in an atmosphere of constant speculation, rumor and controversy. The harassed man in the White House resented what seemed to him an unwarranted intrusion on the dangerous ground of national security. And this, in turn, reflected the unhappy deterioration in relations between press and government. In order to end the public debate, the president issued his terse statement.

DEBATE NOT ENDED
It will not end that debate. At we have now seen in the Fuchs case, super-secrecy does not prevent the leakage of vital information. What it chiefly does is keep from the public the kind of non-secret knowledge that would contribute to understanding and confidence. To gain public confidence something more is essential. Perhaps it is something like a council of leaders of our national life, as proposed by the Washington Post, to report to the public on the whole project.

I think many Americans want assurance of the kind of moral leadership supplied by Senator Brien McMahon in his great senate speech. It is not enough stubbornly to stand on a plan for international control that has been discarded.

But at the same time I think it is important to try to understand the president's dilemma, caught as he is in this terrible moment at the very focus and center of authority and responsibility. The gulf must not be widened. Somehow it must be closed.

It was not meant unkindly. But he took it so, and replied on the air, "Aw, the Russians have a word for guys like Colby—jerkski."

Godfrey pays no attention to grammar. He introduces his "little Godfreys" by saying, "How about the Mariners come do a tune here?" Or, "Hey, why can't we have a song now from you two, for heaven sakes? What's you gonna sing, huh?"

One wonders, though, what the effect will be on the national speech when Godfrey imitators spring up on every radio station.

Pronunciation: Extremely careless. Score: Voice, 24; enunciation, 15; style, 15; pronunciation, 10. Total, 64. Rating, good.

This has not been an easy Speech Portrait to write. I do not wish to appear hypercritical, nor do I overlook the fact that Arthur Godfrey is a great radio comic and master of ceremonies. But these Portraits must be fairly and accurately drawn if they are to have any value for the serious student of radio speech.

Forgotten

Good Evening

By Clint Dunathan

MY VALENTINE—Come next Tuesday, Feb. 14, young men of all ages will present the girl of their choice with some token of their affection. It is Valentine's Day—or St. Valentine's Day if you prefer.

The association of the spring festival for lovers with the death date of two St. Valentines is purely accidental and has no connection with the saints of the early Christian church. In fact, before the death of the Christian martyrs, the Romans observed a spring festival (Luper-calia) on Feb. 15; and similar spring observance dedicated to love were known in old England and Scotland, and to some extent in other European countries.

Today in the United States, Valentine's Day is a time to exchange sentimental—and sometimes humorous—gifts and messages.

MODERN NOTE—The below-erred and beribboned paper and cloth valentines of an earlier day (when Father was a pup) are now largely replaced by straightforward statements of affection. Sometimes these avowals of undying love are anything but sentimental, at least to those who can recall coy messages in pale blue on pink paper. A purchase of "valentine candy" hearts, each imprinted with a few memorable words of love, reveals the drift to modern nomenclature.

Ripe Tripe, for example, or Reet Weet, now express something to youngsters of 1950. So also does Dig Me, Slick Chick, Jug Head, Solid, Some Bull, Dead Duck, Lamble Pie and Old Bag. For those who want to reveal the depth of their emotion, they can present a candy heart bearing the cryptic Buzz Me.

ANOTHER TIME—In an earlier and more classic period of American culture, the young woman might respond with a risqué "Twenty-three Skidoo!"

But she was more likely to blush becomingly and effectively if a swain presumed too much.

In those days of high collars, Gibson Girl pompadours, and six yards of bloomers, the messages of love were softly sentimental. The title "Will You Be My Valentine?" was question enough. Suitably surrounded with bulbous cupid and sprigs of forget-me-not, the message carried a sincerity often lacking in today's more flippant approach to the tender passion.

FOR MEN ONLY—Once upon a time, on Valentine's Day, both the young man and the young woman presented the other with gifts. Chaucer and Shakespeare speak of the custom of "valentine" and told how the couple might, as a result of this exchange of gifts, become betrothed in the ensuing year.

As the centuries flowed along, the ladies became more cautious in handing out gifts to the men. No doubt they pointed to the past age of chivalry, when knights in armor galloped around chopping up dragons with no thought of pay from anyone. Ladies in those days rewarded the men with a discreet smile and an old scarf tossed from a balcony.

Why should women have to give gifts to men, when it was the Gladstone Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Erickson are the parents of a son, Raymond Ronald, born Jan. 25.

Manistique—City Manager P. H. Beauvais and city attorney, James C. Wood have been authorized to attend the Michigan Public service hearing in Escanaba this week, to protest discontinuance of passenger trains 86 and 87 running between Gladstone and Sault Ste. Marie.

Manistique—Charles Bussee, safety inspector for Merritt, Chapman and Scott, has left for Harrisburg, Pa., where he will be engaged in similar work.

Nahma—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hendricks have left for Green Bay where they will make their home.

Gladstone—According to advertisements in the Press, one could buy club steaks at the Buckeye department store for 35 cents a pound, housedresses from another store for 49 cents each, and over at the theatres, Edward Everett Horton was playing in the movie "Hotentot." men who sought the favors? So the practical sex dispensed with the gifts and the men felt easily into the trap.

Today they are encouraged by advertisers to do their best for the girl friend on Valentine's Day, with gift suggestions ranging from a snappy greeting card to a snappy Cadillac.

COMIC CARDS—The fad of comic valentines is declining, which is a good thing. For nothing that has happened before or since could equal the feminine heartache caused by them.

Woman school teachers were the most likely targets for the comic valentines. If they were past thirty and a disciplinarian the number of comic valentines she received equalled the number of students in her room.

These pictured a hideous "old maid" were accompanied by a set of uncomplimentary verses which concluded with the statement that she would never be anyone's valentine. The comic valentines were always sent anonymously, but many a boy squirmed uncomfortably for several days afterward whenever he had to look teacher in the eye.

KEEPING PACE—Love being what it is, the greeting card industry caters to all with fine impartiality.

There are dignified messages designed for those of middle age and over, more passionate utterances expressing the sentiments of those in the twenties, and completely flippant and nonsensical stuff for the teen-agers. The Reet Weet and Ripe Tripe expressions are typical.

Valentines are seldom the flimsy works of art that once fluttered the hearts of the maidens. Today they have more solidifying, many of them clever and attractive in design and color.

But for the loveless, the purpose of the valentine remains as it has been for centuries—to express a swain's admiration to the object of his affections.

The Filter Contract

Dear Editor:

I have read with a great deal of interest and much concern, the letters printed in your paper about the awarding of the contract for a new filter plant in Escanaba.

I cannot add anything to what has already been said, but I do want to say this. There are rumors going around, some of them unfavorable to the Francis Engineering Co. and many of them unfavorable to the city council and its methods.

While rumors are rumors only, they usually do not start without some foundation. If the city council has anything against the Francis Engineering Co. let them come out and say so, we, the people, may know what it is, and if, as they stated at a recent council meeting, they have nothing against the Francis Engineering Co. then let them come out and explain to the public why they have given this contract to an out-of-town firm, to whom they will have to pay a great deal more money than they would have had to pay to our local firm.

We hear a lot about wanting new industries etc., to come in here, and are told we ought to patronize them. I want to say right here, that I know nothing about the firm of Consecor and Townsend, and nothing about the Francis Engineering Co. except that they are a local firm. But I do think, since the Francis Engineering Co. has been in business for so many years, they must be a reliable and competent firm. And since they have done a good many really big engineering jobs, they must be qualified to handle such a job as is coming up here.

We ought to be glad we have such a firm here in Escanaba, and I think we ought to patronize them as much as we can, especially in this case, when we could save such a big sum of money by having them do the work. I, who do not understand such things too well, can see how a firm right here in town, could do a job for less money than one from away. I think we should jump at the chance to save as large a sum of money as is involved in this case.

At a recent meeting of the city council, they made quite an issue of saving a small sum of money on a building the city is going to buy or erect here in town. Why then, do they want to spend so much more money on this filter plant than is necessary? Even if this outside firm has done a few more such jobs than the Francis Engineering Co. (and this comes from one of the rumors) I cannot see an argument for them there, for surely the Francis Engineering Co. in all the years they have been in business, must have done a great many satisfactory filter plant jobs.

I think the taxpayers have a right to know what is going on and why, and we shall look for a statement and expect to get one, from the city council very soon. The quicker these rumors are stopped, and the public knows the truth, the better it will be for all concerned.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—After J. Edgar Hoover's lengthy session with the senate appropriations committee last week regarding A-bomb leaks, newspapers reported that senators left the meeting ashen-faced over the disclosures.

Here is what Hoover said to cause these ashen faces.

Hoover dramatically reported that subversive activities in the United States are at an all-time high—worse than during the war.

He also revealed that Communists are doing away with party cards in order to prevent detection and conviction. Instead, they identify each other by word of mouth.

Hoover told the senators that Communists were making a special attempt to infiltrate into strategic industries such as telegraph, telephone and the manufacture of electrical equipment. Asked point-blank by the senators whether there still was a spy ring inside the government, Hoover answered "No."

The head G-man complained that Elizabeth Bentley's sensational disclosures two years ago had been premature and that as a result the FBI lost many sources that had been carefully planted for ten years inside the Communist party.

Listening to Hoover as he testified was Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan who was partly responsible for the Bentley disclosures. Ferguson, together with Congressman J. Parnell Thomas, then chairman of the un-American activities committee, heard about Miss Bentley in connection with the Communist treason trial being prepared in New York and jumped the gun on the justice department. In order to cap the news headlines, they called Miss Bentley before their committees and smeared her testimony all over the front pages.

NEW EMPLOYEES NEEDED

Hoover was testifying in order to secure appropriations for about 700 new employees. He illustrated the work of his G-men by telling how during the first trial of Alger Hiss, the FBI was unable to locate Hiss' maid. All Mrs. Chalmers could remember about the maid was her name, "Mary." However, after the first trial, Mrs. Chambers dug up a rough sketch she had made of the maid, gave it to the FBI, and after honeycombing Baltimore and using only this sketchy evidence, finally the G-men located the maid.

Hoover testified at machine-gun speed throughout the closed-door session. Here are some of the figures he rattled off regarding crime in the U. S. A. last year: 1,688,670 major crimes committed in the entire country; the big increases since 1911 have been 67.4 per cent more "aggravated assaults," 35.2 per cent more rapes, 27.5 per cent more burglaries, 24.4 per cent more robberies, 7.3 per cent more larceny.

However, murder has dropped 0.7 per cent since 1911, manslaughter has decreased 5.5 per cent and auto thefts 11.5 per cent. The FBI, he said, had a record of 97.2 per cent convictions last year.

HOW FUCHS WORKED
Here is the background in which Dr. Klaus Fuchs, arrested as a Russian spy in London, worked in the U. S. during the war.

Los Alamos, where he was stationed, was unlike all the other atomic installations and not compartmentalized. In other words, scientists did not work in secret compartments, but were familiar with each other's work. There were some 600 scientists at Los Alamos, of which the foreign "colony" numbered about 60—20 British, 2 Swiss, 10 German refugees, and some Italians.

Sir James Chadwick headed the British delegation. Fuchs was not considered on the first team, but rather on the second. Since there was no compartmentalization, his exact scientific standing made no difference as far as collecting data was concerned.

Fuchs' friends recall that he first worked on atomic matters in Canada, at the Chalk River plant in northern Ontario. This is Canada's chief atomic lab. Next he went to New York, where he was assigned to working out the plans for the Oak Ridge diffusion plant; then on to Los Alamos.

The scientists at Los Angeles were confined to a 200-mile radius from the Los Alamos lab, due to the fact that an army officer made a security slip in a Denver bar in the early days and trips to Denver were ruled out. Scientists were also forbidden to communicate with either friends or relatives—except in emergency.

According to British intelligence, Klaus Fuchs came to Britain from Germany in 1932 as an anti-Nazi refugee on orders from Moscow. Fuchs' instructions were to work his way into British scientific circles. As a result he became a British citizen, knew every secret of the A-bomb including the exact size of the critical mass that makes an explosive, and even the secret of the detonator.

Fuchs also knew about the H-bomb, which our scientists tried to produce before they got the A-bomb. The British believe he gave everything to the Russians.

BLUE-GRAY MONEY

Rep. Pat Sutton of Tennessee has received a flood of mail from civic leaders, clergymen, labor unions and bankers all over the nation, pledging support for his bill to smoke out an estimated 10,000,000,000 of underworld cash by a new issue of currency.

However, Sutton's supporters are divided on the color of the proposed new currency. When Rep. Philip Philbin of Massachusetts asked Sutton what color he favored, the Tennesseean replied:

"Well, being a southerner, I'm for gray." "Well, I'm a northerner," came back Philbin, "and therefore lean to blue. But what do you say we compromise on blue and gray."

"That's okay by me," agreed Sutton.

Survey County To Aid Farm Veterans Seeking Training

The Escanaba Veterans' Institute is beginning a survey of the Delta county area to determine the number of veterans interested in on-the-farm training, it was announced today. It is believed that the applications already on file in the Institute office constitutes only a small percentage of veterans eligible for training under the G. I. Bill and that the final entrance date of July 25, 1951, has not been fully realized by those intending to enter training.

Veterans operating their own farms, partners on farms, and employees, who have had sufficient service to warrant training under the G. I. Bill are eligible for farm instruction. Selection of applicants is made by the Veterans Agriculture Training committee whenever necessary. The farm training program is a full time agriculture program.

All interested veterans are asked to contact the Veterans' Institute or the local Veterans Administration Office as soon as possible in order to be considered as applicants. An application blank, provided by the two offices, when properly filled in is the recognized registration.

Heustis Against Centralizing In Public Health

LANSING—Dr. Albert E. Heustis, Michigan health commissioner, advocated today to widest possible decentralization of public health programs.

Addressing the first commissioner's conference with full-time local health directors, Dr. Heustis said:

"It is my philosophy that good health protection services should be provided for the people of Michigan where the people live, that is, through good local full-time public health units."

The state's public health program should be decentralized, the commissioner said to the local units with the state keeping certain supervisory and consultative services and retaining those programs which it is not practicable or economical for local units to operate themselves.

However, he said, the state should not give up any services which it now provides to local departments until the latter are able to take them over, and he emphasized that the state must continue some programs for the benefits of counties which do not have local health departments.

He challenged public health officials to join more in local hospital programs, to take more interest in other health problems such as water pollution, to develop new programs without skipping the old, to help increase the number of full-time local departments and to raise the standards of their profession.

In March, 1949 he shipped for a tour of overseas duty, and upon his arrival in Okinawa was assigned to the 1st Platoon of the 29th Infantry Regiment, a unit of the Army of Occupation in the Ryukyus Command. While in the Army he has qualified as an expert on the M-1, Browning Automatic and Carbine rifle.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

See where a bank in Denver is putting in left-handed checkbooks. They figure their southpaw depositors deserve just as much consideration as the right handers.

Time was when it was believed that left-handed people had no right to exist at all. If a youngster showed signs of using his left hand, his parents were supposed to break him of the habit—to force him to use his right.

But today most doctors will tell you that changing a child's natural left-handed tendency usually causes more harm than good.

Stammering and other nervous disorders often get their start that way with children.

From where I sit, if a man wants to use his left hand—that's his business. It's not such a good idea to make anyone do things our way, just because we think it's right. Personally, I think a mellow glass of beer is the finest beverage on earth. If you happen to prefer a Coke—why, go to it! Only leave me the same freedom of choice, won't you?

Bergman Baby Faces Trouble

Parents Give Boy Bad Start In Life

By ROBERT C. RUARK

New York—The girls are all yackety-yacking about the Bergman bambino, and the air is thick with clinical details of the birth of Miss B.'s Italian woods colt.

Much is being said about the future careers of the papa. But the viewpoint of the most important member of this dramatic accouchement is being ignored in welter of post-delivery marriage arrangements and legal mish-mash.

I do not find the plight of little what's-his-name amusing, nor will the poor little coddler find his own life very amusing. The brand is hard to wear, even if the parents be obscure. The life of any celebrity's child is difficult enough, even if they are legally and honorably wed. When you combine illegitimacy with famed parents, the sufferer has got to be the baby.

There has been a great deal of nonsense written about the bravery of Bergman and Rossellini in ignoring convention, defying the world and its customs for love and kindred gunk. But the fact is that they are guilty of an appalling selfishness for condemning the fruit of their love to a lifetime of famed illegitimacy. Their own lives are their own to wreck, if they wish; they commit a tremendous grievance against their child by permitting him to be born for the front pages, stamped as illegitimate, while the mother is legally wed to another man in America.

"Act of God" Baby

There is a harsh word for innocent children who get themselves born of unwed parents, and it is flung at them forever in anger. It is a fighting word, and little Rossellini-Bergman-Lindstrom will wear a bloody nose for most of his life, if he is a prideful, strong man. If he is not, he will merely house a scarred and bloody soul, and a twisted, possibly inverted temperament.

People have a long memory of inconsistencies among the famous. From the first day that lovely, legitimate Mary MacArthur was born until her tragic death as a young woman, she was harassed and hounded by the term, "Act of God Baby."

This was merely because her equally lovely mother, Helen Hayes, was entangled in a professional legal squabble at the time of her birth, and the bone of contention was whether Mary would be construed as an act of God.

If a sweet and beautiful child, of legally wed and popular parents, can be cursed with an enduring cliché, can you imagine the Bergman baby's predicament when he goes to school, or goes to play, or goes to work?

Romance In Egypt
I have a friend, an English gentleman, whose mother once went to Egypt for the holidays, and who later was delivered of a chocolate-colored son, souvenir of her involvement with a romantic but dusky gentleman. She was immediately divorced, because the woman's husband, a Britisher of gentle birth and high station, objected to the details of the breeding of his heir.

Living in England became highly impractical for the white mother and her dark son, because this was 50 years ago and the world was considerably less tolerant of racial mixing under illegitimate circumstances. They dwelt abroad until the mother died and the money stopped coming. The poor and tortured boy, a rich man's legal child, had been constantly cursed with his paternity.

His life, for the past 40-odd years, has been a steady fright of insult and insecurity and deeply bitten complexes. As he has aged he has acquired a desperate toleration of his estate, and has found some measure of peace among friends who don't care about his color or his legitimacy. But the man's life was warped from his first infant yell.

I take no moral stand on anybody, so long as his doings concern himself and the other adults involved, but I disclaim the right of adults to wreck a child's life out of selfishness or improvidence in the conduct of their affairs. All his life this child will be known as Bergman's folly, or something more euphonious and vicious.

I note the proud father, Signor Rossellini, has both admitted the child and announced that there was to be no honeymoon. The last touch I like. Babies are an awful nuisance on their parents' honeymoon.

What d'ya mean—it's good for me?

"I need Michigan Bell to make a profit like I need a hole in the head," said Hans. "I work for a paper mill—not the telephone company."

"I know," replied Tony, "but the company you work for sells the paper you make. And with the money they take in, they pay your wages."

"... produces jobs and wages for thousands of Michigan people—including us. So if their making a fair profit is going to help keep my pay envelope full, I say it's good for me. And for you, too."

Standard's answer to winter's cold!

And what an answer it is—a new and better White Crown Gasoline packed to the limit with fast-starting molecules that were saved all last summer in huge refrigerated tanks to bring you faster starting this winter.

Here's why we say 1950 White Crown is the Best winter gas you can buy!

Not just a so-called "stepped-up" gasoline... but a new-formula gas... made to give you more reliable winter operation than you've ever known before. That's the White Crown your Standard Oil Dealer is serving you today! It gives you:

- One-second starting! You'll feel confident your engine will start... start surely... start with a rush! And you'll also get...
- 19% faster warm-up! Yes, 19% faster than the premium gasolines in general use last winter. So you start and get going without a lot of sputtering, stalling and battery strain. And your engine gives you all the knock-free power it can possibly deliver.

Get the "feel" of this new and better STANDARD WHITE CROWN Gasoline—today!—at your neighborhood Standard Oil Dealer's!

Only a financially healthy telephone company can do all these things:

- Keep on improving and expanding so you'll be able to have the kind of service you want, when and where you want it... and you can call more people. THAT'S GOOD FOR YOU.
- Carry on the construction program to meet your telephone needs, which also means more jobs and more money in circulation. THAT'S GOOD FOR YOU.
- Keep on buying millions of dollars worth of materials and supplies from Michigan industries. THAT'S GOOD FOR YOU.
- Provide telephone jobs which help keep up employment and purchasing power in Michigan. THAT'S GOOD FOR YOU.
- Continue to assume its share of the tax burden for government services and educational needs. THAT'S GOOD FOR YOU.

To keep on doing all these things, we'll need additional money from investors. And the only thing that will attract that money is a reasonable profit. This means that telephone rates must be adequate. The additional cost to you would be small—only a fraction of a cent more per call.

Creator Of 'Mark Trail' Cites Value Of Realism

Two decades ago, Ed Dodd, who later created "Mark Trail," had a job at a place on Pearl Street, New York City, drawing calendars. But after putting in about three months at the confining work, his restlessness got the better of him. He quit and went on a fishing trip in Wyoming.

He has also at various times: worked with rangers in Glacier National Park; guided horseback packtrain trips through Yellowstone; gone on a bicycle camping trip in Norway; and studied the drawing of animals with Daniel Beard, animal painter and founder of the Boy Scouts.

Favors Realism

In fact, he exemplifies the maxim regularly dispensed in creative writing courses: "Deal with what you know best." As a result, his outdoors strip rates high up the ladder in realism and authenticity.

"Mark Trail" will be four years old in April. In its short life it has won medals for distinguished service from Sigma Delta Chi, the Hunting and Fishing Club of America and the Wisconsin Humane Society; pulled 60,000 letters in a puppy-naming contest; and has been signed for a network radio show. (Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman introduced the initial program Jan. 30.)

Recognition has stemmed from the fact that "Mark Trail" not only entertains, it educates. The strip is, in a sense a war baby. "When troops were taught effectively by comic strips during the war, we became suddenly conscious of the fact that we had an educational medium on our hands," says Mr. Dodd.

Youngsters, and old-timers too, are regularly taught in the comic strip, which has conservation as an underlying theme. But every effort is made to weave any instructional data smoothly into the drama so the reader won't recognize the education as such.

Thus "Mark Trail" readers learn about the woodman's fire-preventing habit of breaking stick matches after they've been used (the match has to be completely out to do that). In the comic strip, this conservation device turned up as part of a story plot: Mark was following a man—a woodman—and broken match stems were the clues to his whereabouts.

"Break a gun before you pick it up" would never be said that way in the "Mark Trail" strip. Mark would simply break a gun in the course of story action. In another case, some gun-carrying advice was suggested: a character got shot in the leg when holding a gun the wrong way going over a fence. The conservation theme was dramatized when a salmon trying to get back to the home pool swam into polluted water that came from an old mill.

Mr. Dodd does extensive research before each continuity. (Ones on the trumpeter swan, and on the fur seal at Pribilof Islands at migration time, are coming up soon.) The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, a branch of the Department of the Interior, cooperated particularly on these two continuities, sending numerous pictures and information about source material.

After the research is done, Mr. Dodd casts about for the dramatic story—the plot that will relate the animals and the human characters.

Drama in animal life, Mr. Dodd points out is generally limited to the struggle for food and shelter and for protection against man and nature; and breeding. (The field is further limited as breeding can get only cursory treatment in a newspaper strip.)

When faced with a knotty plot problem, Mr. Dodd daydreams sometime about the advantages of fantasy. But he doesn't give in. Animals in the strip do only what is true to nature. Background details are authentic. And the same degree of realism for the human characters is sought.

Trend Away From Fantasy

"I think the trend is away from the fantastic in comic strips," says Mr. Dodd. "A guy who reads a strip likes to think he could be in there doing what the hero is doing. And if Mark Trail does something too extraordinary, the reader loses his vicarious thrill."

Thus Mark avoids the spectacular, catches the average small fish. In one case Mr. Dodd used a real life incident (a tree-topping episode) in the strip. But he toned it down considerably. The thing that had actually happened sounded too implausible.

Strip fan mail is generally split 50-50 between adults and kids, and 50-50 between men and women. Those who write in for advice on drawing a strip get advised to "forget drawing and learn short story writing." "Sixty-five to 70% of a comic strip is story," says Mr. Dodd.

The Atlanta, Ga. artist, who has worked up to three assistants but still gets up at 5:30 a. m., practiced what he preaches. For two years before he started his strip, he studied story technique—by correspondence.

"Mark Trail" runs daily in the Escanaba Daily Press.

Bishop To Attend Zion Dedication Service Sunday

The Rt. Rev. Herman R. Page, Marquette, Bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Northern Michigan, will be present for the service of dedication of the new church in the remodeled Zion Episcopal church at Wilson Sunday evening, February 12, at 8 o'clock CST.

A parish supper in the Guild hall at 6:30 CST followed by a business meeting will precede the dedication.

Visitors are welcome to attend the supper and dedication service.

Remodeling of Zion church, the attractive little white edifice which stands on a parcel of land given the parishioners by the late Mr. and Mrs. John Bagley in 1894, was completed only recently.

Improvements to the building include a ten foot addition to the north end of the church which replaces the former vestry room to provide a chancel, sacristy and a small conference room.

New windows with green variegated cathedral glass have been installed in the church. The ceiling has been lowered about five feet and paneled in red cedar, the walls redone with colored wood planking and the floor refinished. In connection with re-wiring of the building recessed lights were installed and the additional seating accommodations for the choir also have been provided.

The Wilson church is served by Rev. J. William Robertson of Holy Trinity church, Iron Mountain.

LUDINGTON BUY-LINES by Sue Donimus

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast." I want go so far as to say we are savage, but we do live in a pretty hectic world these days in which music can play a soothing part. I surely hope some members of your family are taking advantage of the fine musical training offered at the Delta Music Center. The staff of teachers, headed by Manley Anderson, are all well trained and anxious to serve you. Assisting Mr. Anderson are Sam Ham, Danny Sheeran, and Al Steed. Musical instruction may be obtained in piano, organ, voice, guitar, and accordion. The new Wurliizer pianos as now on display at the Center and are worth seeing.

A Valentine that's dandy! Is Saykilly's home-made candy! For sweetheart or for mother! It surpasses any other! Saykilly's home-made candies are worth singing songs about. Have you tried some? They also have those heart shaped boxes of Schrafft's and Johnston's chocolates, so if you're Valentining, stop in!

If the way to a man's heart is through his stomach, I wouldn't be at all surprised but that the way to a woman's heart is with perfume. I found the perfect Valentine perfume at Gust Asp's this week. It is Schiaparelli's "Book of Hearts". As gay and festive as Valentine's Day itself, the case is decorated with hearts and opens like a book. Inside is that gem of a perfume—Shocking by Schiaparelli. Lucky you, if your husband reads this column and decides it's the gift for you. Lucky hubby, if you're the Queen of Hearts that wears Schocking perfume!

You know how people always say, "You're just paying for the name" when they buy some well known product. Frankly, I'd never heard of Oak's candy until Mr. Bissel at the Groos Drug Store introduced me to it. Made in Oshkosh, Wis., this is truly a delicious candy that sells at a nice low price. White heart boxes edges in red can help you introduce this candy to someone special on Valentine's Day.

She was only a second-hand dealer's daughter which was why she wouldn't allow much on the old davenport! But Bonfeld's Furniture Store will allow $50 on your old davenport and chair if you turn them in on a new set at their store. Stop in at Bonfeld's and see the graceful modern furniture that can make a gracious place of your living room.

I know just what you'll say when I tell you about the new shipment of children's dresses at Lauerman's—"Why, you can't make them yourself at that price." And you're so right. Only $1.25 and $1.75 for these beautiful little cottons! The material is fine, and the sewing detail is excellent. This is just the time when most little girls' wardrobes need picking up, too. The dresses come in sizes 1 to 6x in both prices. One little pink frock has a light grey insert for the skirt front and bodice—trimmed with a fine white lace. These Dot and Dash Dresses are sold in better stores everywhere. In Escanaba you'll find them at Lauerman's.

Why not have a little Valentine party next week? You get the house cleaned up, and let Thompson's Bakery worry about the lunch! The party is a sure success if you serve one of their Valentine cakes. These are cherry filled and will be decorated or, if you prefer, frosted with luscious whipped cream. Cakes of special size or preference may be ordered in advance. The little heart shaped cookies are delicious, too.

I'll gladly let you slip one over on me—if it's a nylon slip from Penney's that is. Have you seen their new white nylon slips? Generously trimmed with nylon lace at the top and a three and a half inch lace border at the bottom, these slips are a real buy at $3.98. Sizes from 32 to 40. Fast drying nylon is fast becoming my favorite lingerie.

He thought when he got that extra hug. "I'm glad I stopped at the City Drug."

Every girl will hug the man that brings her one of those unusual blue, plaid or red heart shaped boxes of Johnston's chocolates come Valentine's Day! The City Drug Store also carries the famous Whitman's sampler. Nothing makes a sweeter Valentine than candy—good candy that is!

Here's one little brunette who wants a bleach job, but not on my hair. On my bedroom furniture! You would too if you had just been looking at the new bleached mahogany and bleached walnut bedroom sets at Petersen's Furniture Store. Made in all the new practical and modern designs, these sets will make your bedroom have the look of tomorrow. The quality of these is the highest and they are fully guaranteed. Even gentlemen prefer blonde furniture when it's from Petersen's.

In Local GuardCompany Now Up To Full Strength

The Manistique Unit of the National Guard, Co. D, 107 Engr. C. R. reports seven recent enlistments which brings the organization up to the full numerical strength allowed by law.

This numerical strength of 73 enlisted men was attained several months ago, but due to the fact that a number of members had left Manistique to engage in work elsewhere there were a number of vacancies in the ranks. Those enlisting were Norbert Tatrow, and Edward Paulson, of Garden; Alvin Hodge, Gulliver; Maxwell Burns, Frank Rydquist, Homer Weber and Don Carlson of Manistique. There is also one recruit on the waiting list.

At the time the local guard unit was organized, the full numerical strength of the company was set at 125, but due to a recent national ruling freezing enlistments in the national guard, the present company is at its present strength.

Much new equipment and an adequate supply of uniforms has put the company on a sound operating basis.

Impressive Court Of Honor Local Feature
Of Boy Scout Week

Before the largest local audience attending any Boy Scout event in recent years, Scouts of Manistique were honored with earned awards in a Boy Scout Week Court of Honor held Monday evening in the Lincoln school gymnasium.

The evening was packed full with various presentations which kept the one hundred adults and an equal number of children interested at all times. To add to the spirit of the occasion, the Manistique Municipal Band was present to play some enthusiastic marches preceding the program and twice during the ceremony.

Ben Karwoski, scoutmaster of Troop 461, was master of ceremonies, introduced the main features of the evening giving a real boost to scouting as he presented the various scouts who in turn gave the awards to the scouts. Second class badges were awarded by Clint Leonard, committee chairman of Troop 462; First class badges by William Corson, troop committee chairman of Troop 461; Star badges by Rudy Jehn, of Nahma, advancement chairman for the Red Buck District; Life Badges as well as several registration cards by Dave Phalen, of Nahma, chairman of the Red Buck District committee; and Merit Badges by Carl Wedell, committee chairman of Troop 460.

Not all the program consisted of adult participation, however, for boys of each of the troops gave excellent demonstrations of skills that the Scout movement emphasizes. What to do when certain types of injuries occur was clearly shown by boys of Troop 462 with Sid Bouwers a Scoutmaster. The senior leaders of Troop 461, Iggy Babladelis and Mike Shaw, explained briefly and interestingly what the Boy Scout wears and what equipment he needs, together with some of the fires he can build.

The boys of Troop 462 evidenced adeptness in the tying of knots fundamental to Scout knowledge. This feature, as well as the investiture ceremony which followed was conducted by Ed Kot, Red Buck District executive from Escanaba.

The focus of the investiture was upon a specially built candelabra which held candles enough for the twelve points of the Scout law, three points for the Scout Oath, two for the badge and one very large candle for the Spirit of Scouting. Twenty-five boys thrilled in the challenge of the words of Ed Kot and in having the Tenderfoot pin placed on their left pockets by one of their parents.

Following the formal closing of the Court of Honor by Scouts of Troop 460, lunch was served by a committee of ladies, all mothers in each of the three troops. They were Mrs. Vilas Young, chairman; Mrs. Hazel Brown, Mrs. R. D. Four, Mrs. Lanier, Mrs. B. Gero and Mrs. Otmier Schuster.

The entire event was acclaimed a great success by all those attending. Coordinating and planning the Court of Honor were Scout Commissioner, Paul Sobel and Advancement Chairman, Wilbur Fairchild.

The following boys received awards during the evening:

Life Badge—Jimmy Jackson;
Star Badge—Gordon Moore and Bill Morden;

First Class—Wallace Cook, John Wedell and Robert LaLonde.

Second Class—Daniel Harbick, James Barr, Carl Brockman, Pat LaFave, John Schuster, Ralph Williams, Joe Wilson, Robert Smith, Thomas Gould and Ernie Pelen.

March Of Dimes
Campaign Here
Ends Saturday

With Saturday the last day of the March of Dimes Campaign in Schoolcraft County, Mrs. R. W. Cockram, chairman of the fund drive in the city is making a request that all contributions collected in the city be turned over to her at the earliest possible moment.

The committee is particularly anxious, says Mrs. Cockram, to have responses to personal solicitations mailed before that time so that the affairs of the campaign may be entirely completed by Saturday.

The personal solicitations are self addressed envelopes of a special design in which coins or bills may be inserted. Should these have been lost or mislaid, the ordinary method of remitting may be used, addressing the envelopes to Mrs. A. W. Cockram, March of Dimes Chairman, 323 Walnut Street, Manistique, Michigan.

The response thus far has been very satisfactory, says the chairman.

Thorough preparation for this event was made by having each boy obtain written permission to go on the trip. Mr. Karwoski has made this event a tradition in his troop which is sponsored by the Rotarians. Roleo Bids
Are SoughtNo Local Sponsors
Found For Event

The National Roleo association is advising various interested cities that bids are being accepted on the event and the city making the most advantageous offer will be accorded the 1950 event, it is learned from Douglas A. Mathison, association president.

Many places previously have expressed an interest in staging the log-rolling show but the association at its annual meeting awarded it to this city with the provision that if plans to again promote the event had not been made by the first of the year that bids would be entertained from other cities.

Mr. Mathison only this week had an inquiry from Albany, Oregon, Eau Claire, Wis., former site of the championship event and home of the champion, Jim Running, has wanted to stage the show as has Fort Francis, Ont., and Kelso, Wash., home of the Herron brothers, Jimmie and Eddie.

With the Chamber of Commerce voting against sponsoring the event again and no other local organization desiring to take over, there apparently is no hope left of staging the event here.

GLADSTONE — The Gladstone Braves scored their second win over Escanaba and its 10th of the season when they took the Eskymos into camp, 35-29, before a capacity crowd here last night.

Gladstone fans were looking for a repetition of the earlier encounter when the Braves routed their arch foe, 62-33, but it was a much better Orange and Black quint that romped the local gym last evening.

Escanaba led in the first minutes of the tilt but Gladstone forged into the lead and was never headed or tied from then on. The score at the end of the first quarter was 12-8 Gladstone and at halftime, 20-14. In a slow third period, Escanaba outscored Gladstone 4 to 2, making the count

22-18, the closest the Eskymos came to evening up things after the end of the first period.

Billy Rajala and Phil Creten went to work in the final period and the Braves added 13 points while the Eskymos got 11, with Axel Anderson doing yeoman work in keeping his teammates in the thick of things.

Captain Rajala paced the Braves with five field goals and four free throws for 14 points while Creten was getting 12 on six buckets. Captain Anderson was high point man for the Eskymos with 10 points on four field goals and a couple of charity heaves.

Both Warren Johnston of the Eskymos and Jim Schram of the Braves went out of the game on five personals. Titch Swenson received a technical for improper language on the floor.

In the preliminary, the Escanaba Reserve five defeated the Gladstone quint, 37-33, after holding a 20-19 halftime lead.

Faber's Tally Enables Mike's To Tip People's

Transfers Upset Wait, 44-43

In the most outstanding game on an outstanding city league basketball card at the Escanaba junior high school gym last night, Russ "Muscles" Faber shot a basket in the dying seconds of the game to enable Mike's Bar to nip People's Bar, 36-35.

It was one of those Frank Merriwell shots that paid off. Nip-and-tuck all the way. People's led, 34-32, with less than two minutes to play. Bill Ferrari, Mike's top scorer for the night with 13 counters, tied it up with two free throws at the one-minute mark.

Don Ohman made it 35-34. People's, with only 45 seconds remaining. And then—Faber dropped the pay-off two-point-er to pull the game out of fire. It was Mike's by a hair.

Ohman topped the scorers with 15. Ken Dufresne hit 11 for the losers, and Faber, the same, accounted for 10 points for Mike's.

Claimant Transfer upset Wait Window, 44-43, for their first victory of the season in league play.

Don Ashland and Jim Corcoran hit 19 and eight points, respectively, to lead the Transfers. Carl Fassender and Bob McCarthy hit 13 and 11 for the losers.

In another rousing affair, VFW made its bid for second-place Class A honors in the city by downing Cloverland, 49-43. Jim Kessler, Don Lewis and Roy Johnson hit 16, 13 and 11, respectively. Ray Hirm topped Cloverland with 10 and Bob Anderson came through with seven.

Manistique Continues Its Winning Ways With 47-39 Munising Beating

MUNISING—Those amazing Manistique Emeralds, who suddenly have blossomed into a rugged basketball opponent after a so-so start, continued their winning ways here last night by belting the Munising Mustangs, 47-39.

Not much was said about Manistique's play until they nipped Negaunee, a previous winner over highly-touted Marquette, and then the Emeralds proved it was no fluke by beating Sauli Ste.

Manistique led 12-11 at the quarter and the rivals were tied at 18-18 at halftime, but a big third quarter turned the trick.

Munising reserves won the preliminary.

Leahy Explains That $1,000,000 Coaching Story
DETROIT—(AP)—Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame came up today with his explanation of a story that he had been offered a $1,000,000 per, contract-to-coach pro football.

Leahy, here for the Detroit Times Quarterback dinner last night, said the story apparently grew out of a discussion he had in a New York restaurant a couple of weeks ago while dining with friends.

This was Leahy's version: "We were just chatting about football when one of the party, a man who has no connection with any professional team, said he'd be glad to pay me $500,000 a year to coach a team if he had one."

"We all laughed and I told them seriously that at one stage of my career I had been offered a 10-year contract at $500,000 a year to handle a pro team. I turned that one down."

"I told the people at the dinner party that I was happy at Notre Dame and was going to finish my coaching career there."

Leahy then continued: "The friend who had made the dinner statement about wanting me at $500,000 a year wound up things by saying he'd get me even if it took $1,000,000 a year. That is apparently the germ from which the story was generated."

"That's all there was to it," Leahy concluded.

HOPES FOR D'UNKING
EAST LANSING—(AP)—Michigan State Coach Charles McCaffrey Jr., is hoping his swimming team will throw him fully clothed into the pool after the dual meet with Michigan here tonight. The coach gets a dunking only when his team wins an important meet. And if Michigan State wins this one it will be the first victory in the 28 meetings with Michigan dating back to 1922.

Sebo Named Spartan Frosh Football Coach
EAST LANSING—(AP)—Steve Sebo, backfield coach at Harvard University, was named freshman football coach at Michigan State College today.

Sebo, a former Michigan State athlete, was coach of football, baseball and basketball at Alma college before he shifted to Harvard in March of last year. In 1948 his Alma football team was undefeated and won the MIAA championship.

Sebo succeeds Bob Flora, who resigned to become line coach at Washington State under Forest Evashevski, who recently accepted the west coast head coaching job. The new freshman coach also will serve as a varsity coach.

BOWLING

The word is out in Escanaba Classic league play—look out for Ernie Vanierbergh! He's on a rampage.

Ernie's last six games were 206-222-199-204-230-200 for a right sharp 210-plus average. No wonder Ernie's average of 176 is climbing. All that adds up to two big series 627 and 634.

Another 600 series man last week was Bill Hanson with 248-199-182-629 and Arvid Isaacson with 208-210-189-607 and the week before Chuck Peltier turned in 226-207-176-609 and Bill Bougie cracked out 216-190-199-605.

Don Feller couldn't bowl the previous week—some sort of an announcement party, we understand—but his last effort before deserting bachelor ranks was an even 200. Best wishes to you and the Missus, Don!

Two hundred scores are a dime a dozen in the Escanaba Classic. Here is Secretary Bill Puckelwartz' latest compilation: Chuck Peltier 216-206, Eddie Gravelle 209-211-206, Carl Johnson 206, Mel Bertrand 216-209-208-204, Mike O'Brien 208-208, Flash Moyle 203, Bill Hanson 236, Phenix Benard 208, Pat McPherson 222, Augie Gafner 211-203, Phil Brazeau 201, Ray Wahowiak 203-203, Harry Gafner 201-217, Harry Needham 223, Sid Lambert 206, Pete Christensen 229, Al Kidd 224, Herb Bergman 205, Bill Bougie 214.

They have a few split artists in the Classic, also. Pipe Needham with the 2-7-10 and 6-10, Peltier with the same, Carl Sawyer with the 4-7-10, Joe Rademacher with 3-7-10 and—yep, that's what it says right here—Puckelwartz with 6-10.

The Arcadians became the first team to enter and make reservations for the 40th annual U. P. Bowling tournament to be held at the Escanaba Arcade alleys, beginning March 25.

Here are the fat counts in Gladstone recently: Elihu Rasmussen 201, Walter VanDeWeghe 201, Clayton Gardipee 207, Tony Raspor 205 and Harold Haglund 207 in the Holy Name, Bill Curtis 201 in the American and Allan Gillis, Jr., 220 and Gus Dehlin 232 in the Major.

Not to be outdone, the Gladstone lassies are right there, too, with 190 and 184 for Margaret Girard, 185 for Vera LaLande, 184 for Lois Gagnon, 178 and 177 for Ruth Hamilton and 175 for Jane Tuffnell.

John Arnold had the top count in Escanaba Paper league play, Ted Makosky coming in second with 209.

Bert Godeau made the 3-10 split look silly. He plucked it and converted it three times. Other split artists were Bill Hildebrand 3-9-10, George Milkovich 5-10, Bill Kraiger 5-7, Elmar Beck 5-7, Mander Way 7-8, Tom Wicker 8-9, Wilfred Trudell 4-7-8, Bob Kelly 5-10, Cliff Sutter 6-7-10, Don Estebo 4-10 and Gunnar Hornblad 5-10.

In the City League of Escanaba, the kingpins were Max Saums with 203 and 209, Clarence Moore at 218, Ken Olson at 212, Hank Naumann at 211 and Harold Johnston with his 201. The latter made good on the 9-7 and 9-10 splits, and Clarence Zerbel laughed when he thought of the 5-8-10 leave—after he made it!

Again, there are more splits than you can shake a maple pin at in the Escanaba Delta league. They draw a lot, but as long as they bring them all in—that's good, isn't it?

Here is the roster of divided Delta pins: Don Guindon 6-7-10, 5-7, Carl Sawyer 6-7, John Lemmer 4-10, Nobel Carlson 6-7, Emil L'Heureux 5-7, Rudy Erickson 5-10, Vern Ihlenfeldt 5-7, Ray Raymond 3-10, Bill Foder 2-10, Clarence Zerbel 5-8-10 and of most recent note are Ben Douglas's 6-7, Jack Novak's 5-7, Bill Berglund's 3-10 and Secretary Zerbel's 2-7 and 5-6.

Barney's and Liberty are one-two in the Manistique BPOE bowling wheel at the end of the first half. Here is the honor court roster of the week at 'Stique:

600 Series: John Kasun, 181-224-234 for 639; Harold Peters, 194-211-221 for 626; Dan Estren, 201-211-199 for 611; "Slim" Stoor, 159-209-241 for 609; Al Farley, 171-225-205 for 601; Pete Stanness, 205-213-182 for 600.

200 Games: Harold Peters, 235; Ossie Smits, 227; Carl Carlson, 226-203; Frank Burgess, 222; Francis Kasun, 221; Ed Busch, 218; Stouwer, 215; Malcolm Nelson, 214; John Kasun, 212-203; Stan Norton, 212; Charles Rusiecki, 211; Connie Graphos, 205; Glenn Riley, 205; Ernie Eklund and Bill Heinz for 203; Vic Schuster, 201 and Art Cockram, 200.

Josie Jokela hit the unusual triplicate at the Rock Maple Bowl lanes last week. She bowled 123-123-123. Honor courts there were posted by Viola Trombley 200-178, Josie again with 180, Elsie Bjorn 178 and Eula Nevela 176.

The top man apparently is in a precarious position at Nahma. The other night, S. Warner beat R. Bramer's high count of 239 with a rousing 243 and 15 minutes later, Keith Beuchamp hit a 245 for a new individual game high. "Oh, well," says Warner, "I had the record for 15 minutes anyway. Other highs in the Nahma Men's league are Bramer's 602, the Pine Groves' 916 and Garden Corners' 2621.

Harry Johnson with 216 and Lois Kampainen with 177 were recent highs at Chatham. Mixed doubles winners there were Mr. and Mrs. William Hytinen, first; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Samuelson, second; Mr. and Mrs. John Norlin, third; Mrs. Erol Lindfors and George Geertz, fourth; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richmond, fifth, and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Richmond, low.

Girls at the Escanaba Elks are still converting splits successfully. Gladys Richards and Pearl Curtis recently spilled the 5-10 and Elaine Morton negotiated the 5-7. Triple-pin split artists there were Wilma Perron 4-5-10, Dorothy Briggs 1-5-7 (Oh, oh—what's that headpin doing up?) and Blanche Christie 5-8-10.
